

Priester Awards Nominations

Award Nomination Due: April 14, 2023

Award Recipients Notified: May 1, 2023

The Jeanne M. Priester Extension Health Awards recognize extraordinary programs and professionals that are modeling next generation work in the area of health and well-being. Awards are presented in five different categories. Award recipients will be recognized at the 2023 National Health Outreach Conference at Cornell University in May.

Award Categories

Nominations will be accepted in five categories.

PROGRAM AWARD, Individual or Family - programs designed to meet an identified need at the individual and/or family level. Programs involving an Extension-community partnership are eligible for this award.

PROGRAM AWARD, Community - programs designed to meet an identified need at the community level. Programs involving an Extension-community partnership are eligible for this award.

PROGRAM AWARD, Innovative - programs that feature new methods and/or go beyond traditional programming to address an identified need in the community.

LEADERSHIP AWARD - an individual who has provided exemplary, impactful leadership to his or her state and/or the nation in the area of health and wellness.

CULTURE OF HEALTH AWARD - an Extension-community partnership that is taking a transformative approach to improving community health, fostering a culture of health through community-based strategies, and/or co-creating with communities to ensure relevance and reduce barriers for positive change.

Eligibility

Leadership Award nominees must be a Cooperative Extension employee at the time of nomination. Nominations for other awards that involve a team or community coalition must include at least one Cooperative Extension employee as a member of the nominated team or coalition.
