

A Guide to Citing the SEED Method

Did your team use the SEED Method or a SEED Method Tool? We are so excited about your projects and looking forward to your first publications. We have prepared a list of citations for ease of use.

Below you will find a list of citable publications:

Toolkits:

Zimmerman EB, Rafie CL, Biney-Amisshah T, Lee SS. The SEED Method for Stakeholder Engagement in Strategy Development and Action Planning: Online Toolkit. 2022. Available from: <https://campus.extension.org/course/view.php?id=2146>

Zimmerman EB, Cook SK. The SEED Method Toolkit for Stakeholder Engagement in Question Development and Prioritization. Richmond (VA): Virginia Commonwealth University, Center on Society and Health; 2017. Available from: https://societyhealth.vcu.edu/media/society-health/pdf/seed-method-files/SEEDMethodToolkit_abbreviatedPDF_Final.pdf

SEED Method Evaluation and Demonstration Projects Articles

Zimmerman E, Cook S, Price SK. (2017). SEED Method Evaluation Report: Executive Summary. Virginia Commonwealth University Center on Society and Health. https://societyhealth.vcu.edu/media/society-health/pdf/SEEDMethodEvaluationReport_ExecutiveSummary_Final.pdf

Zimmerman EB, Cook SK. The SEED method: The SEED Method: a Multi-level Stakeholder Approach to Research Question Development and Prioritization. In: Zimmerman EB, ed. Researching Health Together: Engaging Patients and Stakeholders, from Topic Identification to Policy Change. Thousand Oaks, CA: Sage Publications, 2020: 92-116.

Zimmerman EB, Rafie CL, Moser DE, Hargrove A, Noe T, Mills CA. Participatory Action Planning to Address the Opioid Crisis in a Rural Virginia Community using the SEED Method. Journal of Participatory Research Methods, 2020; 1(1). <https://jprm.scholasticahq.com/article/13182-participatory-action-planning-toaddress-the-opioid-crisis-in-a-rural-virginia-community-using-the-seedmethod>. PMID: 32864659, PMCID: PMC7451262

Zimmerman EB, Cook SK, Woolf SH, et al. (2020). Developing a Method for Engaging People in Setting Research Agendas. Patient-Centered Outcomes Research Institute (PCORI). <https://doi.org/10.25302/04.2020.ME.131007664>

Rafie CL, Zimmerman EB, Moser DE, Cook S, Zarghami F. A Lung Cancer Research Agenda that Reflects the Diverse Perspectives of Community Stakeholders: Process and Outcomes of the SEED Method. Research Involvement and Engagement. 2019.

<https://doi.org/10.1186/s40900-018-0134-y> PubMed PMID: 30656063; PMCID: PMC6330432

Zimmerman EB, Cook SK, Haley AD, Woolf SH, Price SK, the Engaging Richmond Team. A Patient and Provider Research Agenda on Diabetes and Hypertension Management. American Journal of Preventive Medicine. 2017. <http://dx.doi.org/10.1016/j.amepre.2017.01.034>. PMID:

28314558; PMCID: PMC6979736

Have questions?

Contact Dr. Emily Zimmerman, emily.zimmerman@vcuhealth.org